

Green City for Human Betterment

2012 EAROPH World Congress
EAROPH - Eastern Regional Organization for Planning and Human Settlements

Daegu, Republic of Korea
October 17 - 19, 2012

Green City for Human Betterment

Happiness of people do not necessarily grow in parallel with the size of their cities and growth rates. Rather, it depends on vitality, green development structures and public convenience. More specifically, these components include a pleasant environment, an abundance of jobs, favorable residential conditions, convenient transportation systems, economic and cultural competitiveness, a public-participatory governance system, and so on. The 2012 EAROPH Congress will provide you a great opportunity to seek ways to promote the vision of Green City conducive to achieving a balance between urban growth and environment preservation and at the same time to guaranteeing citizen's happiness.

Session 1. Strategies for carving out Green City

Session 2. Green Housing focusing on Convenience, Safety and Stability

Session 3. Green Transportation focusing on Users and Environment

Session 4. Green Industry and Economy for Sustainable Growth

Session 5. Regeneration Strategy for Central Areas of the Secondary Cities

Session 6. Governance System of Happy Green Cities

Session 7. Experience for realizing Green City in the Asian Pacific Rim
